

Smoke in style

If you smoke Cuban, why not take the opportunity to get a little more Cuban style in your life.

Miami based Tabacalera Perdomo, S.A. has joined forces with Cubavera, a division of apparel giant Perry Ellis International, to manufacture and market Perdomo-branded 'Cubanesque' shirts known as a guayabera - a loose-fitting, pleated shirt that is an iconic symbol of Cuban culture. The stylish, distinctive Perdomo Guayabera is available in four basic styles.

These Cuban style shirts are available at select tobacconists across the country, or for more information visit www.perdomocigars.com.